Ingenious new kitchen gadgets make life easier

Sunday, March 11, 2007

By Virginia Linn, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

The 2007 International Home & Housewares Show kicks off in Chicago today, so we take this opportunity to review some of the new, recent and favorite kitchen products that stand out.

Fits like a Glove

If you're all thumbs when it comes to using knives, you might be interested in the new Cut Resistant Glove, to be unveiled this week at the international home show by Microplane.

It's made from a specially engineered fiber to provide an extra layer of protection and safety for professional and home cooks. One size fits all, and you can wear it on either hand. It's also machine-washable. It will be available this summer at national retailers ($24.95).
